

Dr. Pramod Kumar Gupta is presently teaching in the Department of Sociology, Lucknow University, Lucknow. Dr. Gupta has completed M.A. in Sociology from Banaras Hindu University (BHU) in 1996 where he has been awarded Gold Medal. Dr. Gupta has also been associated with International Institute for Population Sciences (IIPS, Mumbai) where he has completed Master of Population Science. He has been awarded Ph.D. in Sociology in 2003. He has been involved in RCH and other major projects at IIPS, Mumbai.

Dr. Gupta is specialized in Demography and Social Research, his thrust area is population, health, sexuality, reproduction, women, education etc. He is familiar with computer software packages such as SPSS, ANTHROPAK, MORTPAK, GIS, Atlas-ti etc.

Dr. Gupta teaching up to PG, M.Phil. students at Department of Sociology, Lucknow University, Lucknow. Eight students have already been completed Ph.D. under his supervision and presently four Ph.D. students has been registered with him.

Dr. Gupta has participated in several National/International seminar and conferences. He has written twenty articles in reputed journal and two books i.e. "Janankiki ke Mool Tatva (in hindi) and "Role of Social Media in Society Transformation" which has already been published.

Dr. Gupta has organized ICSSR sponsored National Seminar at Department of Sociology, Lucknow University. Besides these, he has also act as a co-convener in two National Seminars.

Dr. Gupta is also associated as a reviewer with International Journal of Sociology and Social Policy being published by Emerald, U.K.