SOCIOLOGICAL PERSPECTIVE

21,22 MARCH ,2024 (ONLINE)
& 23 MARCH 2024(OFFLINE)

Social conflict occurs when two or more actors oppose each other in social interaction, reciprocally exerting social power in an effort to attain scarce or incompatible goals and prevent the opponent from attaining them. Conflict school in Sociology focuses on tensions and conflicts which arise when status, resources and power are unevenly distributed between groups in society and when conflicts become engine for social change. Lewis Coser regards Social conflict as struggle over claims to status, power and scarce resources in which the aims of the conflict groups are not only to gain desired values, but also to neutralise, injure or eliminate rivals. Social conflict encompasses a wide range of social phenomena like communal conflicts, riots, rebellions, strikes, revolutions, civil disorders, marches, demonstrations, protest gathering etc. Individual, community and institutional levels interventions contribute to positive adaptation to conflict. Resilience refers to a socio-economic-political's response to violence and capacity to maintain peace resting the pernicious impacts of violence on societal norms and relationships. As instances of violence and social disruptions are manifesting in different ways across the globe, there is imminent need to study and explore the ways societies respond to conflict through adaptation, absorption and transformation.
