

RC-16 WORK, LABOUR AND ORGANISATION, ISS

The aim of this Research Committee is to support and encourage research in certain subject areas relating to Work, Labour, and Organization and to advance the research progress and capacities of the researchers in the field. This research committee also seeks to improve research cooperation and exchange in theoretical and empirical research in this topic, as well as to build relationships and promote cooperation among scholars working in the field. The scope of this Research Committee is to link research in Sociology of Work, Labour and Sociology of Organisation with related areas such as work dynamics, labour policy, social justice, industrial relations, organizational behaviour, and management theory and practices